

Title: Probing the critical point using holography

Abstract:

In this talk I will discuss how the field theory quantities such as equilibration time and complexity behave near the critical point and how one can use this information to measure the critical exponent. The talk is based on papers 1811.12002 and 1712.08777.