

In this talk, I review the mechanism of gravitational waves (GW) generation from second order scalar perturbations. Then I consider a radiation-dust (dark matter) background and extend the computations to the case where entropy perturbation, S , is present. Finally I calculate a modified GW amplitude and describe the relation between GW amplitude and entropy perturbation S .