

In this presentation, we will discuss the importance of quantum physics for understanding the early universe of the cosmos. We study the relationship between the classical world (Large-scale structures) we observe with the early universe quantum fluctuation. We also investigate whether the quantum aspects, such as entanglement and decoherence, will correct the CMB or large scale observables?